

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Monday, February 26, 2018 (A Day)

Debate Donuts

Debate donuts are back for this Friday. Give your $10 per dozen to your Pride Time teacher and Debate will take care of the rest.

Science Olympiad

Congratulations to the following Science Club students who placed in events at Science Olympiad on Saturday, February 24th. Great job!

Austin Novak and Derek Horbach with 4th place in Thermodynamics and 4th place in Optics
Breanna Kalhorn and Madalyn McCullough with 5th place in Ecology
Madalyn McCullough with 5th place in Anatomy & Physiology
Breanna Kalhorn and Derek Horbach with 4th place in Herpetology

Counseling

UNL "I'm First" Symposium

Will you be the first in your family to go to college? UNL invites you to attend their I'm First Symposium on March 28. This event will allow 9-11 graders and their guest to gain all the resources needed to get into college. Student will leave this event feeling more comfortable with the application and admissions process. Student who attend this event will qualify for the Emerging Leaders Scholarship worth $8,000 in tuition over four years, after they attend. Register by March 19 or get more information at go.unl.edu/first

Athletics

Girls State Basketball

Pre-sale tickets for the Girls State Basketball Tournament are available in the Activities Office. Tickets are $5 for Students and $7 for adults.

Boys District Basketball

Boys Varsity Basketball will play in the Championship game at home tonight vs. Lincoln Pius X at 7:00. $5 adults and $4 for students. Black is the theme.

For an updated calendar of school activities, go to:
www.mhsaaconference.org